Pasadena Officials
OK Business Zone
In Upper Hastings

The Pasadena Planning Commission Tuesday night approved creation of a business district in the Upper Hastings Ranch—a district for the northwest corner of Sierra Madre boulevard and Michillinda.

At a monthly dinner meeting, held at the Brookside Park Clubhouse, the Planners voted to allow "neighborhood commercial (C-2) zoning" of five acres of the Pasadena-annexed ranchland.

Around the Square

Although office holders and office seekers always proclaim that an enlightened voter is an important cog in the operations of a democracy, we too seldom find them doing much about it in pre-election skirmishes.

A series of events brought this home forcibly this week, and the events had to do with the current race for county supervisor of the First District (that's us).

Last Sunday the L. A. Times and the Pasadena S-N had a warmed-over handout in their columns which proclaimed that County Supervisor Roger Jessup (Fifth District) favored Candidate Herbert Legg over the Board of Supervisor's own chairman, William A. Smith, who is after reelection.

This was confusing to the electorate because on FRIDAY another L. A. paper carried a story headed "Jessup Denies Legg Endorsement."

Here is what happened, as related by Jessup.

Supervisor Jessup had said some very nice things about Bill Smith, which were recorded in an election pamphlet.

"Herb Legg was hopping mad about it, because I'm on the Board, and he insisted that I say something nice about him too," Jessup told us, "So I did—but it wasn't an endorsement over Bill. As a matter of policy I can't very well endorse anyone."

Jessup finds himself in everyone's dog house as a result, and now he's trying to figure out what to do about it.

But that's only one confusing situation out of many in a political campaign for endorsement. Here's how some of them were got by an old political dodge.

Sierra Madre's councilmen received letters as did most all city officials and prominent people of the district, from Herb Legg which thanked them for serving on a committee for his election.

The dodge is that unless letters were sent back "forthwith" denying any such affiliation, the people found themselves "endorsers" of the candidate, although they were not for him.

We know of at least two letters from S. M. Councilmen that were sent back to Legg "forthwith" declaring some how by mistake your office inadvertently listed me . . . etc."

But then I suppose we voters will be forced to succumb and rewrite the old saw to read: "Anything goes in love and war—and politics."

Council Approves Corner Stop Signs

Stop signs for three of the four corners at Santa Anita avenue (Doubledrive) and Grandview were approved by the City Council Tuesday.

Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan had recommended that signs be installed to stop all except north-bound traffic at the intersection.

They voted to permit multiple residential zoning and parking (R-3 and P) on three acres north of the corner along Michillinda. Originally, all eight acres had been proposed for a business zone by Coronet Homes Inc., land developers.

Final approval on the zoning must come from the Pasadena City Directors.

A public hearing on the question was held last Thursday with several Sierra Madreans making protest.

The city of Sierra Madre formally had opposed zoning the area for anything but residential purposes. City Councilmen had requested that a representative of the local Planning Commission be present at the hearing Thursday, but no one was there.

Attending from Sierra Madre were Former Mayor Tom

Artists Make Plans for
'Art Week'

Sierra Madre artists are preparing for the annual local observance of "Art Week," scheduled for Nov. 3 to 12.

Local artists are being contacted this week to prepare their work for a special exhibit in the City Hall Council Chambers.

As in years past, a reception is planned for one evening during Art Week. Actual date, chairman, and other details of the reception will be announced next week.

An added feature is to be offered Sierra Madreans this year, when Mrs. Helen Narozny will have her studio at 630 Fairview open to the public several days for demonstrations in oil and water-color painting, pastels, and jesso work.

Community Fund Drive
Workers Visit Homes

Cooperation of every Sierra Madrean was asked this week as the 1950 Community Drive got underway.

Approximately 110 volunteer workers are canvassing every house in town to collect the largest drive budget ever set by Community Fund workers—$4609.41.

By yesterday morning, $1413 toward the goal had been raised, leaving $3196 yet to go.

Attention of Sierra Madreans is called to the giant thermometer set up in front of the Bank of Sierra Madre, which daily records the progress of the drive.

The Community Fund Drive is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and is this city's equivalent of Community Chest campaigns of other cities in the area.

The money will benefit Sierra Madre Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Community Nursery School, Girl Scouts, Toy Loan, Visiting Nurse, and the YMCA. Team captains, representing these organizations include: William Lanier, Mrs. O. H. Ogren, Edward A. Davey, Hubbard Russell, Mrs. Joe Murphy, Mrs. J. E. Conzelman Jr., and Mrs. Florence Peterson.

The downtown business district will be canvassed by Dav-

A TWO-FOLD PLAN to improve Sierra Madre's business district and solve the downtown parking problem was proposed this week by City Engineer Harry H. Shatto. Mr. Shatto proposes a shopping "patio" and roadway running south of and parallel to Sierra Madre boulevard. He is shown above working on a preliminary drawing of the suggested project.

SHATTO PROPOSES SHOPPING AREA
BELOW SIERRA MADRE BOULEVARD

A possible solution to Sierra Madre's downtown parking-space shortage and to the threat of a commercial zone in the Upper Hastings Ranch was proposed this week by City Engineer Harry H. Shatto.

The proposal is to extend Sierra Madre's existing shopping center south of Sierra Madre boulevard into an arcade created between the boulevard and Esperanza. It would mean the construction of an enlarged, patio-style shopping area.

While a new street running parallel to the boulevard has been proposed several times, Mr. Shatto said this would be "more than just another street." Besides improving and enlarging the present shopping center to compete with other cities—and specifically, the 8½-acre zone, planned for the northwest corner of Sierra Madre boulevard and Michillinda—Mr. Shatto said the project would provide parking facilities adequate for the entire downtown area.

If the present rate continues, it has been estimated that Sierra Madre's population probably will be nearly 14,000 by 1960, Mr. Shatto said.

"We would zone the new center with a mandatory 50-50 parking ratio—that is, half of the space would be used for business structures; the other half would be left for parking," Mr. Shatto explained.

There would be three means of access to the business "patio"—from Esperanza (east of the houses facing west on Hermosa), from Sierra Madre boulevard (east of the Safeway Market), and from Baldwin.

The area would be laid out with parking space along both sides of a concrete island in the center of the street. Parking "keyholes" also would be honeycombed around several of the businesses, providing space for stores now on Sierra Madre boulevard as well as for the new stores.

Mr. Shatto pointed out that the present business district cannot be improved upon so far as layout is concerned. There is need for an enlarged shopping center, however, in view of population-growth estimates made for the city.

Clergymen
Sign 'Pledge of Purpose'

A "statement of unity of purpose and beliefs" was drafted and signed by Sierra Madre religious leaders last week.

The statement, signed by five local ministers, priests, and rabbi, pledged that the signers would strive "by every means within our power to inform and to arouse the members of our several congregations to the possible danger to our American liberty through the operations of clever and insidious enemy agents now operating in this country."

Signers included the Rev. Fr. Leo Scheibel, C. P., the Rev. Clarence Nida, the Rev. Orian G. Burlison, the Rabbi Dr. Charles W. Steckel, the Rev. Carl Smith, and the Rev. Fr. Harley Gibbs Smith, Jr.

Decision on the request is expected at the next Council meeting, following a study and report by Mr. McMillan.

Council OK's
Business Area
Street Work

Regrading and resurfacing of portions of Baldwin, Kersting Court, and Sierra Madre boulevard will proceed after the first of the year.

At the Tuesday night session of the City Council, City Engineer Harry H. Shatto was instructed to go ahead with the necessary engineering work for a business district street-improvement project.

The project will include Sierra Madre boulevard, from Baldwin to Lima; Baldwin, from Montecito to Sierra Madre boulevard; and Kersting Court.

To be eligible for state gas-tax funds, a resolution is being prepared by City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn, declaring Kersting Court to be a "major city street."

The Councilmen are assuming that the PE tracks will have been removed by Jan. 1. Merchants had objected to street work being initiated before the Christmas shopping season ends.

On Sept. 19, the Council awarded a contract to Warren Southwest Inc. for repaving Baldwin avenue, from Montecito to Highland, and from Sierra Madre boulevard south to Orange Grove. The contractor was asked to delay work until sometime between Jan. 2 and 16. It is understood both projects will begin at approximately the same time.

Two weeks ago, the Council ordered that paychecks be held up until city employees have subscribed to the oath.

Unlike other years, ballots do not have to be notarized or witnessed this year.

There has been some delay

BLOOD BANK VISIT
SET FOR WEDNESDAYSierra Madreans Asked to Make Appointments Now

Sierra Madreans are urged to make appointments now for donating blood next Wednesday, Nov. 1, when the American Red Cross Blood Bank visits town.

Residents may make their appointments by calling the Sierra Madre ARC Chapter House, CUster 5-6183.

On Blood Day next Wednesday, the Blood Bank will be set up at the Woman's Clubhouse between the hours of 3 and 7 p. m.

Many civic organizations have urged their members to donate blood, and others are expected to make similar appeals this week, according to Mrs. Randolph Wood, blood bank chairman for the local ARC Chapter.

"There still is a great need for blood, for both civilian and military use," Mrs. Wood reminded Sierra Madreans this week.

"The Blood Center in Los Angeles—to which Sierra Madre is a contributing city—is sending large quantities of blood to United Nations forces overseas. At one time, the LA Bank was shipping 200 pints a day to the Korean war front."

R. C. Lewis, chairman of the Red Cross Chapter, pointed out that week that "thanks to the Sierra Madre National Guardsmen, we've always had a good record in blood donating."

"Now that they aren't here anymore," Mr. Lewis said, "Turn to page four—"

62 Residents
Get VNA Aid

Sixty-two visits have been made to ailing Sierra Madreans by the Visiting Nurse Association of Pasadena during the past three months.

In a quarterly report issued this week, it was disclosed that the 62 visits, at $2.75 each, cost a total $170.50.

Patients paid in full, however, for 23 of the visits, the report stated. In addition, 16 of the Sierra Madre residents visited paid a portion of the cost. Another nine became patients at the county hospital. Fourteen visits were paid for out of funds collected from a few Sierra Madreans last year when a citizens' committee was formed to underwrite the services of the VNA.

Five hundred dollars of the Community Fund Drive budget will go toward the financing of Visiting Nurse work in Sierra Madre. Campaigning for the Fund Drive started Monday.

Citizens' Committee Formed
For Supervisor W. A. Smith

A Sierra Madre citizens committee for the re-election of Supervisor William A. Smith was organized here this week.

Supervisor Smith, now chairman of the county board, will be seeking his fourth term of office at the November 7 general election.

The Sierra Madre committee urged his re-election on the record of his administrative ability and the service he has done Sierra Madre, particularly in seeing that county and state funds were made available to help finance the vitally-needed water diversion project that is now underway.

Members of the committee are:

Tom Schwartz, Don Jackson, Judge John C. Mead, Edward A. Davey, Herman Barter, Harry Lange, J. C. Loomis Jr., R. C. Lewis, Al E. Morgan, Mrs. Florence Morgan, Carl Hansen, Sam. Perloff, Alfred James Dewey, Mrs. Sallie Dewey, Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, Mrs. Helen Raddon, Noren Eaton, Mrs. Edith Dame, Francis S. Dane Jr., Howell N. White Jr., Mrs. Ione E. Ward, Mrs. Edna Hewitt and Arthur Hewitt.

Before coming to trial on one drunk charge last week, Clare Wayne MacArthur, 439 E. Highland, was arrested again on another one.

He pled "not guilty" following his first arrest on Oct. 15 and was released on $50 bail. Trial was set for Saturday, Oct. 21.

But on Friday, the 20th, officers arrested him again. He pled "not guilty" again but did not post bail this time and was "put up for the night" in the local jail.

Before City Judge John C. Mead Saturday, however, MacArthur reversed both pleas and was fined $20 on each count. Through his attorney, Richard A. Haley, MacArthur promised to "get out of town" and return to his place on the desert.

Students Await Annual
P-TA Carnival Saturday

Excitement is high at City School this week for the annual Sierra Madre Parent-Teacher Association Carnival, to be held on the school grounds Saturday afternoon and evening, Oct. 28.

Parents and teachers are putting in many hours daily preparing for the event which will feature entertainment in which all can participate.

Beginning at 5 p. m., supper will be served in the school cafeteria, and the parade begins at 6 o'clock. According to Mrs. Sam Perloff, carnival chairman, cider and doughnuts will be sold on the grounds throughout the evening.

In the auditorium, Howard Mitchell will present his puppet show at 6:45 and his magic show at 8.

Booths offering typical carnival attractions will be open on the grounds from 5 to 9 p. m., Mrs. Perloff said, and several class rooms will offer movies and cakewalks.

In urging enthusiastic support of the carnival, Mrs. Perloff pointed out that the event is the only fund-raising activity carried on by the P-TA during the year. At this time, all money for the year's needs must be raised, she said.

Chicago Fire Survivor Vouches For 'Cow-Lantern' Episode

The oft disputed story that Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern and caused the tragic Chicago fire was verified this week by Mrs. Sarah Jahn, 675 Rim Road, Hastings Ranch.

Mrs. Jahn should know, for she is one of the survivors of that great disaster that echoed around the world on Oct. 8, 1871.

Nw 92 years of age, Mrs. Jahn was 14 at the time of the fire. She recalls that the blaze could be seen from 80 miles away.

Her family lost everything in the fire and, looking back on it now, Mrs. Jahn realizes that they might have lost their lives too, had they remained where they sought refuge from the flames.

The Katz family (that was Mrs. Jahn's maiden name) first fled to the old Rock Island Depot—a sturdily-constructed stone building everyone thought would withstand the heat.

Soon they were told that the building would be destroyed also and that they should retreat further, toward the lake shore. When they returned several days later, the depot was a shambles.

During their flight from the inferno, Mrs. Jahn relates that her mother offered a man $10 to go back and save her "bed clothes." The man politely declined, explaining that he was waiting for someone to make the same offer for $100.

Mrs. Jahn has been living in California for 15 years, but she still loves Chicago. She returned to the "Windy City" for a brief visit six years ago. Mrs. Jahn resides with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eichorst, in the Lower Hastings Ranch.

At a "pep rally" meeting held Monday night at the Nursery School building, drive workers were given instructions, receipt books, and information in handling the "case cards."

According to Dr. Milton Valois, active drive chairman, a case card is made out for every resident of Sierra Madre. The cards were broken down into districts Sunday by Kiwanis workers.

As soon as a person donates, he is given a receipt and a lapel pin showing that he has "Contributed at Home First." Optimism over progress of the drive so far was expressed Tuesday by Dr. Valois. He praised the "wonderful cooperation" volunteer workers are receiving.

P-TA Hears '3-R's Plus' School Plan

Urging both parents and teachers to keep up with the fast-changing life of the modern school child, Dr. Robert Gilchrist, assistant superintendent of Pasadena City Schools, last week addressed an association meeting of the Eugene Field School Parent-Teacher Association.

"Modern Schools must promote a 'three-R's plus' program which will recognize the developmental needs of the child in the changing world of today," Dr. Gilchrist stated.

In outlining the goals for education of the modern child, the administrator stressed co-operation between home and school as one of the most important steps. Other vital goals include good facilities, small classes, good teachers, student interest, and creative experiences.

Sponsors promise cookies and fruit punch for weary dancers and a suggestion of Hallowe'en by way of original masks decorating the walls.

A name for the dancing group—open to all Sierra Madre teenagers of the 7th and 8th grades—will be selected at the dance tomorrow night from suggestions made by teenagers in a "name-our-group" contest. Dress for the dance is "strictly informal," Mrs. Burr pointed out, with jeans and sport shirts suggested for the boys and cottons or sweaters and skirts for the girls.

Mrs. Grippi Passes Away

With the death of Mrs. Cosma Grippi last week, Sierra Madre young people lost a true friend.

Mrs. Grippi passed away in an Alhambra hospital, Friday night, Oct. 20, ending a lengthy illness.

Always a friend of youth, Mrs. Grippi was famous for her informal spaghetti dinners at her home, 51 N. Mountain Trail, and letters sent many local servicemen during World War II.

Rosary was recited Sunday night at Grant Chapel for Mrs. Grippi, who was born in Los Angeles and had lived in Sierra Madre since 1922. Mass was sung Monday morning at St. Rita's Church.

She is survived by three sons, Joseph S. Grippi and John Grippi, both of Sierra Madre, and Joseph Grippi Jr. of Monrovia; two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Rizzo of Alhambra, and Mrs. Mary Ann Evans of Sierra Madre; and six grandchildren.

Interment was at Calvary Cemetery.

VFW Presents United Nations Flag To City

A group of some 100 Sierra Madreans turned out Tuesday morning to take part in the national observance of United Nations Day.

Highlight of the brief ceremony held at 11 a. m. at the City Park was the presentation by the local VFW Post of a United Nations flag to the city of Sierra Madre.

Francis Eakman, on behalf of the VFW, presented the flag which was received by Mayor William A. Kinney. It is understood the UN flag will take its place next to the United States flag in the City Council Chambers.

In presenting the blue and white banner, Mr. Eakman remarked that it will not take the place of "Old Glory," but will act as an adviser and counselor in helping out in time of need.

Mayor Kinney pointed out that now is the time for every freedom-loving country to join together to combat communism. "We are subduing communism in Korea through action of the United Nations Organization," Mr. Kinney said. "Most of the criticism to be directed against Americans today is their complacency. Complacency among Americans is the hope of every Communist. Let's not be caught napping."

Millers Weekend Here

Mr. and Mrs. Warren I. Miller of Santa Barbara, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gerke of 602 Mariposa.

Mrs. Miller (nee Carolyn Gerke) was honored at a pantry shower in San Gabriel, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Gerke and Mrs. Amanda Spitz of this city attended the affair.

BLOOD BANK

"someone must step in and take their place."

At a recent meeting of the ARC Disaster Committee, attended by Mr. Lewis and Edwin W. Ward, it was brought out that 3½ million pints of blood were collected by the Red Cross during World War II.

It was estimated, however, that just one atomic weapons attack on a large population center would require the use of that much blood.

"Now don't be impatient like Daddy... give me time to answer your ring before you hang up."

This is a very good idea since it isn't always convenient for people to answer the telephone on the first ring—or the third—or even the fifth. Wait for at least ten rings before you hang up. Your party may be out in the garden picking flowers, or dumping clothes in the electric washer, or in the middle of a televised thriller, or doing any number of things not easy to drop right away. "Give them time to answer" is a good telephone byword.

At present, most television sets in Sierra Madre can get clear reception from only three channels. While the improvements proposed so far are only for Channel 11, it is understood other stations will take similar steps if the new deflector proves satisfactory.

Altadena Man Fined for Speed

Driving at excessive speed proved a costly experiment last week for an out-of-town visitor to Sierra Madre.

In City Court Saturday morning, Judge John C. Mead assessed a $15 fine against John W. Fogg of Altadena for speeding in the Lima-Sierra Madre boulevard area.

For parking in a red zone, Sam Matoian was fined $5. Two dollars of the fine was suspended, however, by Judge Mead.

Four motorists forfeited bails by non-appearance.

Pruning Due For Park Palms

With Hallowe'en just around the corner, the City Council is taking no chances with the palm trees in the city park.

The Councilmen Tuesday night hired Sierra Tree Service to prune the four palms facing Sierra Madre boulevard. The city will pay $215 for the job.

Directors of Public Works Harry H. Shatto had pointed out that untrimmed trees "undoubtedly are an attractive nuisance to pranksters."

Councilman Alexander Black, in making the motion, also remarked that they are a potential fire hazard and "unsightly."

Locals Show Hitting Strength In Taming Panthers, 14 - 3

Virtually blasting three pitchers off the mound, the Sierra Madre VFW Raiders Sunday afternoon smothered the Los Angeles Panthers, 14-3.

With Sunday's victory, the Raiders now have 17 wins, 6 losses, and one tie. The Sierra Madreans have won the last nine consecutive games.

Pitcher Oaks held the visiting semi-pros to four hits and one run during his six innings of mound duty, and Emirhanian went the rest of the distance allowing four hits and two runs. Oaks apparently is completely recovered from the buzz saw accident that nearly severed a finger from his pitching hand several weeks ago.

The Panthers used four pitchers in a futile attempt to curb the Raiders' strong hitting attack, led by Frazier who belted three hits for five trips to the plate. The center-fielder batted in three runs. Unusual batting prowess (for pitchers, that is) was shown by Oaks and Emirhanian who together accounted for four hits and three runs batted in.

Nielson, Dixon, and Franco got two-base hits in the contest with Franco hitting two doubles.

The Raiders will meet another crew of "Raiders" this Sunday at the city park—this time, the Hillers Red Raiders. As Sierra Madre Team Manager Larry Shepherd put it, "We'll see just who is going to 'raid' who."

Game time is 2 p. m.
